THE PERFECTION OF NATURE FOR YOUR BEAUTY

naturalmente®

CERTIFICATIONS

The concept of certification is very simple: a third party body (therefore with no financial interest in the certification process) assesses the conformity of "something" with reference specifications. In the case of standard certification, that "something" is the product. In short, the company aims to achieve compliance with the specifications in order to be able to use the mark that identifies the certificated product. The specifications are the same for everyone. PRO: ease of comparison between products of different companies. CON: the main goal is the possibility to use the certification mark for marketing the product. The risk is that the company has no interest in further improving itself at the time the certification is achieved. Our company has chosen to talk about the features and history of the product and to keep them up to date, and also to have them certified by a third-party body. The specifications are peculiar to the company and the product.

WE CHOSE QUALITÀ REALE

We set out to promote and communicate the high quality of the products by providing the necessary information and having its truthfulness certified by an independent body. The certification consists of verifying compliance of the product information with reference specifications. This philosophy has resulted in private specifications that serve as a guideline for our productions. In brief, we have decided to communicate the productions using all the information deemed necessary and to have their correctness certified. PRO: the goal is the maximum search for the quality of a product since it will be the subject of ongoing communication. CON: inevitably, it fits only products of very high quality. Qualità Reale is a philosophy of communicated certification for those who want to offer the market and consumers the opportunity to learn about the company and the characteristics of the individual products in detail and allow customers be informed before making their purchases. It is a solution designed and tailored exactly to the company's needs that makes it possible to inform the market of things it is normally unable to do because they are obscured by widespread information that is misleading. In short, this philosophy is a large certified multimedia container into which we place everything we want to communicate to the market and keep up to date.

OUR IDEA

Is taking care of people with cosmetics coming from renewable and sustainable botanical substances formulated with pure fragrances of flowers and plants grown with organic and dynamic farming and offering Aromatherapy services for the well-being and health of hair and skin.

We have to always remember that this planet is the only home we have.

OUR CROPS

Agriculture has to respect the ecosystem of the planet Earth as much as possible when following the organic and biodynamic methods. Both are part of ecosustainable projects that do not use synthetic pesticides, chemical fertilisers, plant protection products or invasive treatments for the soil and plants. Organic and biodynamic crops fall within a new way of looking at life.

Not only are the balsamic time and phases of the moon taken into account for harvesting the plants, but the harmonious relationship between the pace of the plant, humanity and the entire planet is as well. Now it is easy to understand the difference that exists between the various crops man uses to extract the best quality of the essential oils and the appropriate choice for their use.

OUR ENERGY SOURCES

The energy used to run the machines that produce our cosmetics comes from the wind power generated by the Pontedera plant and geothermal energy coming from the Lardarello plant, both located in Tuscany. These energy sources are sustainable and renewable, with very low CO2 emissions.

MAKE-UP THERAPY

Make-up product - and especially those put on the market for teenage customers - increasingly contain potentially hazardous chemical substances, such as phthalates, triclosans, aluminium, parabens and mosses. The risk is even greater if girls start to use make-up when they are too young. These substances are found in mascara, eye-shadow, foundation, powders and sticks.

Every girl uses about 17 cosmetic products daily on the average (including nail enamel and hair dyes), versus the 13 products adult women use.

Today, as consumers, we can choose what we want to put on our faces in full awareness. Naturalmente's overall view of beauty is found in the new make-up line Breathe

The ingredients come from plants and flowers grown with organic farming, from which natural and gentle colours for eyes, lips and face are created.

The total statement of well-being, make-up now becomes a treatment.

Velvety bases with soft and flux textures, moisturizing and perfecting powders.

Colour expresses itself in the shades of nature and conjures up unique emotions every day.

The effect of different nuances softens or sharpens the face's features.

Every woman has her own shade of colour that is all her own.

Warm hues convey atmospheres of joy, passion and sensuality, while cold tones take us back to calm, tenderness and relaxation.
